Be sure to follow our forum rules when submitting your feedback. Thank you! A: I think the problem might be related to the way that the screensaver works, since it seems that there's no confirmation after each button press. Instead of looking at the list of settings, you might be better off looking at the different options on the main interface of the screensaver. Here's an example of the interface. The example screenshot came from one of my own screenshots, so don't use it as a sample. Sorry for not having any screenshots of the actual software. // Copyright 2012-present Oliver Eilhard. There's just so much ambiguity in the notion of position. I think it's a real stumbling block for a lot of people, especially when there are so many good arguments against pure representationalism. I'd say it's impossible to get an answer to the question "is there a god?", unless it is to "yes" or "no." But if you're happy with an "either/or" answer, and not an "either/and" answer, the natural way to get an "either/or" answer is by asking "how do I know whether or not God exists?"
