Directed by Jesse V. Johnson. With Dominique Vandenberg, Steven Bauer, Fernando Andres Santos, Gary Michael Walters, James Henney. After the murder of his family, a young fighter spends 20 years in prison, but when he's released, he sets out to rescue his former partner. The overproduction of NO (nitric oxide) is thought to be implicated in the pathogenesis of inflammatory diseases. We have examined the effect of tumour necrosis factor (TNF)-alpha on the levels of NO in human endothelial cells. This proinflammatory cytokine causes a dose-dependent increase in nitrite levels, which can be measured by the Griess reaction after dialysis or by spectrophotometric assay. Since previous studies have shown that NO can modulate the bioavailability of endothelial-derived endothelin-1 (ET-1), the effect of TNF-alpha on ET-1 production was also investigated. There was no change in the basal secretion of ET-1, while incubation of endothelial cells with TNF-alpha decreased the secretion of ET-1. This might be the result of down-regulation of the inducible isoform of the enzyme responsible for its synthesis (cyclooxygenase-2). The inhibitory effects of TNF-alpha on ET-1 production was likely mediated by protein kinase C since bisindolylmaleimide, a potent protein kinase C inhibitor, reversed the inhibitory effect of TNF-alpha. These results indicate that TNF-alpha regulates not only the bioavailability of ET 3e33713323
